

A Small Biography

Aliabbas, grew up as the only child. He was really passionate about his dreams but the fear of failing at any point consumed him. But giving up was not a part of his life. He struggled hard for his family. Yet destiny had something else planned for him. He never knew what he wanted to achieve and kept on moving. Failures were a part of every work he did. He was demotivated every single time when he failed and never stopped trying to rise up twice than he failed. He never knew what would he become for himself and his family, a burden or a pride. But his family always supported him for his priceless efforts. People who have struggled a lot have a bright future ahead. But he was not at all convinced by this line. The rest of his life remained a mystery as I am only 19 years old.

POPULATION

The world population is increasing at a very fast pace. The last five to six decades have especially seen a tremendous growth in the human population. There are several reasons for the same. One of the main reasons for this is the development in the field of medical science that has brought down the death rate. Another reason is the growing birth rate especially in the poor and developing countries. Lack of education and lack of family planning are among the top reasons for the high birth rate in these countries.

Science Fact #1

A cloud can weigh over a million pounds. Your childhood dreams of floating on a weightless cloud may get rained on with this fact: the average cumulus cloud can weigh up to a million pounds. A million pounds! That's about as heavy as the world's largest passenger jet.
